Shri Umashankar Malligere, Managing Director of Ahana Systems and Solutions, Bangalore. (Both the resource persons were alumni)

Report: Dr Sreedhar said determination, honesty, hard-working and discipline could make your dream come true. There will be obstacles, but one should overcome them.

Umashankar said people recognise famous people and what they have achieved in their life. He said one must follow the right path, not the easy, immoral, or illegal one. Parents send their children to college with great difficulty. If you value their hardship, then you will be successful. It would be best if you recognised the hidden talent. One should go beyond the syllabus and be talented in the technological world. He said you should not run after success or recognition. It must come to you on its own. The Kalpataru Vidya Samsthe has grown to this level through the vision and spirit of the great people. He remembered his heydays in college. He said you should consider yourself lucky for studying here.

Dr Chittaranjan Rai read the college report. KVS Vice President Bhagyapalli Nataraj, B.S. Umesh, Secretary Sudhakar, Treasurer Shivaprasad, and principals of other institutions were present. Rank holders were honoured, and the sports and cultural event winners were given prizes.
